BHSAC – Project Summary Form
Review Date: 12/4/2024	Agency: The PAC Program of the Bronx, Inc.
Project #: MH-D-2901	Project Type: Establish a new program
Project Description
Provider:	The PAC Program of the Bronx, Inc. (The PAC)
Business Type:	Not-For-Profit Corporation
Program Type:	Mental Health Outpatient Treatment and Rehabilitative Services (MHOTRS)
Address:	1215-1217 Stratford Avenue Bronx, NY 10472
Counties to be served:	Bronx
Population to be served:	<input type="checkbox"/> Children (5+)	<input type="checkbox"/> Adolescents	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Adults
Proposed Effective Date:	1/15/2025
Applicant's Request:	The Applicant seeks to establish an Article 31 MHOTRS program to serve individuals with mental health needs, primarily, in Bronx but also available to all 5 boroughs when permissible. The proposed hours of operation Monday to Thursday 9 am - 8 pm; and Friday & Sunday 9 am - 5 pm. The scope of services will include evidence-based practices for a wide range of mental health conditions, including depression, anxiety disorders, PTSD, and mood disorders. While the PAC has a strong foundation in serving individuals within the criminal justice system, the proposed program will be open to all members of the Bronx community in need of mental health and addiction treatment services, regardless of legal status, cultural backgrounds, socio-economic status, or ability to pay. While the program will adjoin with the physical plant of their OASAS Outpatient Program, the MHOTRS program will reside in designated separate spaces from OASAS program. The MHOTRS program will provide separate waiting areas, distinct scheduling, and group therapy.
Provider's Background
Founded in 2009 by Dr. Kevin Ross, the PAC Program began operation of the Article 32 OASAS certified program referenced above. Its mission is to provide high-quality addiction treatment to individuals facing substance use challenges, particularly those involved with criminal justice systems. The program has now expanded to also serve residents of Queens, Brooklyn, and Manhattan. The Bronx location remains the cornerstone and is particularly concerned with individuals referred through Bronx Criminal Court, Probation, Parole, and the Administration for Children's Services (ACS). Current PAC Program services focus on addiction treatment for individuals with substance use disorders, providing a range of outpatient services designed to meet the needs of diverse populations. The program specializes in both individual and group therapy, psychiatric evaluations, case management, and medication-assisted treatment (MAT) for those struggling with opioid use. While there is a focus on forensic population, services are also available to all members of the community.

The PAC Program’s expansion into mental health services represents a critical step for the organization in providing more comprehensive care to underserved populations in the Bronx. The addition of a MHOTRS program will also enable the PAC to address the growing need for integrated mental health and addiction services for individuals with co-occurring disorders.

Need

The targeted communities of the Bronx experience a high rate of depression. Northeast and South Bronx, for example, has a prevalence rate of depression approaching 14%. 91% of these areas are also designated at below the poverty line and dependent on Medicaid for insurance and a high rate of unemployment, homelessness, substance use, and chronic medical conditions that can affect mental health and well-being. Long wait lists for mental health services are indicative of the dismal access to mental health care in the North Bronx, which is 19.4% of individuals with a mental health diagnosis and receiving treatment, compared with the national trend of roughly 50%. A survey of local providers indicated that large volume providers do not currently accept new referrals at their MHOTRS program. Another major provider reported a 4 month wait list for new clients and another provider is accepting limited referrals.

Of concern to this community are reports indicating that within the Metro New York City Area African American (30.3%), Latinx (39.3%), Asian American and Pacific Islanders (38.2%) are less likely than their White (54%) cohort to seek mental health services. Both the South and North (Soundview area) of the Bronx are comprised of constituents that are 59% Latinx and 30% African American. Expanding into Article 31 services supports the PAC Program’s goal of providing comprehensive, culturally appropriate, and accessible care for individuals in the Bronx community.

Proposed Effective Date:	1/15/2025
Applicant's Request:	The applicant seeks to establish an Article 31 MHOTRS program to serve Children, Adolescents, and Adults residing in Kings County. The proposed hours of operation are Sunday 10 am - 6 pm; Monday to Thursday 8 am - 9 pm; and Friday 8 am - 1 pm. Services would be available to individuals from all cultural backgrounds and ethnicities. The program will admit recipients regardless of their ability to pay or health insurance status and offer a sliding scale fee structure.
Provider's Background
HASC is a not-for-profit organization, founded 1963 to provide services for children and adults with special needs. In 2000 HASC opened its Rambam Health Center, having achieved certification as an Article 28 Diagnostic and Treatment Center (D&TC) and is designated as a Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC). The D&TC services, located at 1122 Chestnut Ave, include adult and children primary, dental, vision, women's health, psychiatry, and behavioral health care. The program served approximately 12,000 unique patients in the past 12 months about two thirds of whom were adults, and one third of whom were children. HASC, through its Rambam site, also offers Healthy Steps, a program funded by the Office of Mental Health, to support healthy early childhood development and effective parenting. Additionally, in 2009 HASC achieved OPWDD certification and today provides residential, habilitation, vocational, respite, and other support services to families and individuals with developmental disabilities.
Need
The area in which the program will be located is generally known as Flatbush and Millwood. Flatbush community has a high percentage of minority population, mostly Black and Latino residents and who are underserved with respect to both primary care and behavioral health services. The applicant reports that the US Department of Health and Human Services identifies proposed service area as a Primary Care Health Professional Shortage Area and a Medically Underserved Area. An analysis of just the Flatbush community by New York City Neighborhood Health Atlas by NYC indicates an overall poverty rate of 20.6%, with 27.5% of the population receiving food stamps/SNAP. In

Midwood, the poverty rate is 23.3%, and roughly the same percentage of residents receive food stamps/SNAP. 65% of the behavioral health patients seen at the D&TC are also enrolled in Medicaid, which is representative of the population in the target community.

The D&TC has observed an increasing number of residents as presenting in need of mental health services. Due to this increase the available space for additional behavioral health services is very limited. The D&TC would also soon be unable accommodate for mental health visits as currently it's expected to go over the allowable 30% of total annual behavioral health visits.

Article 31 certification would allow HASC to offer a wider array of behavioral health services while also ensuring accessibility with the MHOTRS program located in the adjoining building with the D&TC.

Applicant's Request:	Establish a licensed Mental Health Outpatient Treatment and Rehabilitative Services (MHOTRS) program serving Adults.
Background
Vertex LLC is seeking to establish a Mental Health Outpatient Treatment and Rehabilitative Services (MHOTRS) program serving Adults. Vertex has been a staple in the northern Bronx community for 18 years operating The Vertex Treatment Center where they provide substance use treatment, relapse prevention, anger management, domestic violence assistance, conflict resolution, parenting skills as well as other individual and group services. In addition, they recognize the importance of supporting significant others and client families by providing services that help them understand and cope with their loved one's behavioral health issues. enhancing the overall treatment environment. Their approach is recovery-oriented, aiming to improve mental health symptoms, promote independent living, and facilitate community integration. The proposed Article 31 will operate Monday through Friday from 9:00 am to 9:00 pm and Saturdays from 10:30 am to 5:30 pm. The program will offer a comprehensive range of services, including individual and group psychotherapy, medication management, crisis intervention, assessment including health screening. Each patient will receive a personalized treatment plan based on a thorough assessment of their mental health needs. Vertex is committed to helping people cope with mental health challenges by identifying risk factors, detecting early warning signs, and implementing prevention strategies. Their approach involves recognizing and utilizing community strengths and resources and using evidence-based treatment to address risk factors, enhance skills, and build stronger relationships. Their program will promote social connections and help patients develop coping skills and self-confidence through engagement with family, culture, and faith-based practices.
Need
Through Vertex's substance use program, they found that mental health issues like depression, anxiety, and paranoia were often present in their clients but were not initially reported. The program has noted the wait lists for mental health services are very long in many parts of Bronx County impacting the further need for mental health services. In addition, they observe more individuals feeling isolated and depressed, especially since the COVID-19 pandemic began. Surrounding areas have reported a significant increase in such cases as well as suicide, with some seeing an almost threefold increase.

Vertex plans to serve individuals of all backgrounds regardless of their socioeconomic status, race, ethnicity, gender, cultural values, language, and age. The individuals they currently serve are between the ages of 18 and 65 years old, with approximately 60% living below the poverty line and 85% of patients are African American and Latino backgrounds and have been involved with the justice system. Vertex employs culturally and linguistically skilled professionals who follow the Culturally and Linguistically Appropriate Services (CLAS) standards throughout the course of treatment.

Vertex wishes to ensure all patients have access to high-quality interventions to help prevent mental health challenges and promote positive mental health outcomes, regardless of their risk factors, pre-existing mental health conditions, or substance use challenges. The program will cultivate relationships and meet with other service providers including PROS and ACT to develop additional linkage agreements. Additionally, Vertex has plans to utilize peers.

Applicant's Request:	Premium Health Inc. is requesting approval to establish two Article 31 Mental Health Outpatient Treatment and Rehabilitative Services (MHOTRS) programs to serve children, adolescents, and adults in Kings County. The program sites include, 5506 15th Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11219 to serve children and adolescents, and 4510 16th Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11204 to serve adults. They will begin operating both sites with schedules of Monday through Thursday, 8:00 AM to 8:00PM; Friday 8:00 AM to 1:00 PM, Sunday 9:00 AM to 1:00 PM. They will accept Medicaid and have a sliding fee scale.
Background
Premium Health Inc. currently operates as a Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC) in Brooklyn, NY. They currently provide culturally competent and affordable mental health services, directed at a lower acuity population, through their Article 28 (A28) license. Over the last nine (9) years, Premium has been providing mental health services throughout its three Brooklyn-based clinics, within the thresholds of their current licensure.
Need
US Census Data reports a diverse residential make-up of Brooklyn with being 37% white, 28% Black, 20% Hispanic; 12% Asian, 11% multi-racial; 52.4% female; 47.6% male; 22.7% under age 18, and 15.1% above age 65. Brooklyn also demonstrates rates of depression and anxiety above the national average. Which are often compounded by factors like poverty, income inequality, and lack of affordable housing. Access to hospitals and private practices are often challenged by overcrowding and long wait times, impeding timely and adequate care. Social determinants of health, such as food insecurity, limited access to green spaces, and exposure to violence also contribute to the need for mental health services. Premium has identified a need for mental health services within the Orthodox Jewish communities in Brooklyn; that while scattered are predominately located in the neighborhoods of Borough Park, Flatbush, Crown Heights, and Williamsburg. This community within Brooklyn is nearly twice as likely to live in poverty and experience language barriers than other populations within the community. They also experience unique cultural factors that contribute to mental health disparities and barriers to care in the form of stigma, affordability, and trust: 57% of Orthodox individuals assessed view psychological services as unaffordable; 59% mistrust behavioral health providers; 70% feel that behavioral health patients are stigmatized (Schnell, Barriers to Mental Health Care: 25-Year Follow-up Study of the Orthodox Jewish Community, J. Mult'l Counsel. & Dev. (2014)). The community avoids use of traditional mental health crisis services, such as 988 lifeline and crisis warmlines, due to a perceived lack of cultural/linguistic competencies.

As an established provider in the community, Premium Health will employ therapists and support staff fluent in Yiddish, Hebrew, Spanish, and English, use culturally adapted interventions, particularly those tailored to family structures, acculturative stress, religious frameworks, observances, and values. They will also work to engage families in treatment planning, ensure staff are trained in trauma informed approaches, educate the community about services available and how to access those services. This will all be done with a holistic approach to care, collaborating with primary care, psychiatrist, social workers, and other health professionals.
