(a) The purpose of this Part is to ensure that providers of mental health services develop and implement effective incident management programs in order to protect the health and safety of patients and enhance their quality of care. Incident management programs include the components of effective abuse protection; the classification of incidents; tracking and trending of incidents; and implementing effective actions to protect individuals served from harm.

(b) It is the expectation of the Office of Mental Health that providers of mental health services under its jurisdiction will afford their patients appropriate services in a caring and hospitable environment that is recovery-oriented and free from harm. In order to create this environment, providers must seek to eliminate, wherever possible, the occurrence of incidents, i.e., episodes of harm or potential harm. This Part thus requires providers to assure that any reportable incidents are reported and analyzed, and the appropriate corrective, remedial, or disciplinary action occurs, in accordance with applicable federal or state law and regulations.

(c) Incident management programs must also incorporate principles of clinical risk management, which emphasize the improvement of systems and processes. Clinical risk management involves review of incident patterns and trends to identify the facts, circumstances, processes, systems, and areas of risk that may have contributed to such incidents in order to identify opportunities for performance improvement.

§524.2 Legal base.

(a) Section 7.07 of the Mental Hygiene Law gives the Office of Mental Health the responsibility for seeing that persons with mental illness are provided with care and treatment, that such care, treatment and rehabilitation is of high quality and effectiveness, and that the personal and civil rights of persons receiving care, treatment, and rehabilitation are adequately protected.

(b) Section 7.09 of the Mental Hygiene Law grants the Commissioner of the Office of Mental Health the power and responsibility to adopt regulations that are necessary and proper to implement matters under his or her jurisdiction and to set standards of quality care.

(c) Subdivision (b) of Section 7.21 of the Mental Hygiene Law requires directors of facilities operated by the Office of Mental Health to investigate, or cause to be investigated, every reportable incident in accordance with Article 11 of the Social Services Law, and to require allegations of abuse and neglect and significant incidents to be reported to the Vulnerable Persons' Central Register. Directors of facilities must also notify the Vulnerable Persons' Central Register if it appears that a crime may have been committed and such Register shall notify law enforcement as appropriate. Pursuant to this Section, the Vulnerable Persons' Central Register must notify the Board of Visitors and the Mental Hygiene Legal Service of every complaint of abuse or neglect and the results of all related investigations.

(d) Section 29.29 of the Mental Hygiene Law requires the establishment of uniform standards and procedures for the compilation and analysis of incident reports in facilities operated by the Office of Mental Health.

(e) Section 31.11 of the Mental Hygiene Law requires programs licensed by the Office of Mental Health to notify the district attorney or other law enforcement official and the Commissioner or his or her authorized representative if it appears that a crime may have been committed against a patient.

(f) Section 31.16 of the Mental Hygiene Law provides that the Commissioner of the Office of Mental Health may impose a fine upon a finding that the holder of an operating certificate has failed to comply with the provisions of any applicable statute, rule, or regulation.

(g) Section 33.23 of the Mental Hygiene Law requires 24-hour telephone notification of qualified persons, as defined in Section 33.16 of such law, of certain incidents that occur at facilities.

(h) Section 33.25 of the Mental Hygiene Law requires the release of records and documents pertaining to allegations and investigations of abuse or neglect to qualified persons, as defined in Section 33.16 of the Mental Hygiene Law, upon their request.

(i) Section 45.07 of the Mental Hygiene Law provides the Justice Center the authority to make recommendations of preventive and remedial actions to the Office of Mental Health in response to investigations of allegations of abuse or neglect involving patients.

(j) Section 45.19 of the Mental Hygiene Law requires that directors of State-operated facilities and directors of licensed programs report deaths of individuals in their care and any allegations of abuse or neglect to the Justice Center.

(k) Article 6, title 6 of the Social Services Law requires the reporting of suspected abuse or neglect by a caretaker in a foster family care, day care, or family setting of persons under 18 years of age to the Statewide Central Register of Child Abuse and Maltreatment.

(l) Section 490 of the Social Services Law requires the Office of Mental Health to promulgate regulations governing the development of incident management programs; such regulations must be approved by the Justice Center as consistent with its standards and guidelines.

(m) Sections 491 and 492 of the Social Services Law require the reporting of allegations of abuse and neglect and significant incidents to the Vulnerable Persons' Central Register.

(1) Justice Center. Employees of mental health providers who are Mandated Reporters, must immediately make a report of a Reportable Incident to the Justice Center's Vulnerable Persons' Central Register, upon discovery of what appears to be a Reportable Incident.

(i) The report to the Register shall include the name, title, and contact information of every person known to the Mandated Reporter to have the same information as the Mandated Reporter concerning the incident.

(ii) If the reportable incident is a death for which there is any reason to believe that abuse or neglect may be involved, the Mandated Reporter must immediately contact the Justice Center's Vulnerable Persons' Central Register 24/7 Hotline and provide all information requested by the Justice Center, to the best of his/her ability.

(iii) The Mandated Reporter must immediately notify the director of the mental health provider, or his//her designee, that a report has been made.

(iv) An initial incident report in the form and format specified by the Justice Center shall be completed within 24 hours of discovery.

(v) The Justice Center has the statutory authority to investigate allegations of abuse or neglect and significant incidents. A mental health provider and its employees are required to cooperate fully with the Justice Center regarding such investigations, including but not limited to providing access at any and all times to all patients, staff, and any facility building, room or place or part thereof and to all books, records, and data pertaining to such program's patients, staff, facility or part thereof. All relevant records and reports shall be made available, upon request, to investigators at any point following the report of the incident. Patients, employees and any other persons may be interviewed in conjunction with any such investigation.

(2) Office of Mental Health. Mental health providers are responsible for immediately notifying the Office of Reportable Incidents within 24 hours of occurrence or discovery, whichever occurs first.

(i) Such notification shall be in a form or format specified by the Office, and shall include such information as is known at the time the form is completed.

(ii) The Office has the statutory authority to investigate all incidents. A mental health provider and its employees are required to cooperate fully with the Office regarding such investigations, including but not limited to providing access at any and all times to all patients, staff, and any facility building, room or place or part thereof and to all books, records, and data pertaining to such program's patients, staff, facility or part thereof. All relevant records and reports shall be made available, upon request, to investigators at any point following the report of the incident. Patients, employees and any other persons may be interviewed in conjunction with any such investigation.

(b) If, at any point in an investigation, facts are discovered that suggest an incident should be reclassified (e.g., facts are discovered indicating a significant incident must be upgraded to abuse or neglect), all reports applicable to the revised incident type must be made.

(c) Nothing in this Part shall be deemed to supersede the obligation of providers licensed or administered by the Office to directly report crimes to the district attorney or law enforcement and the Office when it appears that a crime may have been committed against a person receiving services, pursuant to Section 31.11 of the Mental Hygiene Law.

(d) Nothing in this Part shall be deemed to preclude providers from identifying other incident types, not required to be reported and investigated pursuant to this Part, that may be investigated, monitored, and analyzed pursuant to internal quality management procedures.

(e) In cases where multiple mandated reporters have direct knowledge of the same reportable incident or have reasonable cause to suspect such incident has occurred, each mandated reporter is required to report such incident, unless he or she knows that the report has already been made by another mandated reporter and that he or she has been named in that report as a person with knowledge of such incident. Providers shall establish written protocols to ensure reports involving multiple mandated reporters are properly made and documented.

(f) The Office shall develop protocols in consultation with the Justice Center to assist providers in appropriately and therapeutically responding in circumstances where: patients have a demonstrated pattern of frequently reporting allegations of abuse or neglect that are not reasonably reliable (i.e., there is no possibility that an allegation is true).

(g) In circumstances where a patient reports an allegation of abuse or neglect to a provider which appears to be impossible or incredible, such provider shall promptly review the matter and must determine, within 24 hours of such report, whether there is reasonable cause to believe a reportable incident has occurred. Discovery of the incident shall be deemed to be when the provider determined that such reasonable cause exists. If it is determined that reasonable cause does not exist and a report is not made to the Justice Center, such decision shall be documented.

(h) The Office shall identify a standard process to be used by providers by which incident reporting and management notifications, alerts, and any other correspondence necessary for the timely follow up of reportable events are received and organized.

(a) Care and Safety of a Patient Involved in an incident. Directors of mental health providers or their designees must ensure that their incident management programs require any staff person who observes or is informed that a Reportable Incident of any type has occurred to immediately provide assistance and secure appropriate care for the involved patient or patients. Such Directors shall provide the Office with contact information for administrators who can be contacted by the Office at any time, on a 24 hour per day, 7 day a week basis, for the purpose of ensuring that such measures have been taken.

(1) If an allegation of abuse or assault has been made, appropriate care shall include separating the alleged perpetrator from the alleged victim, in circumstances where it appears the allegation is credible and sufficient staff coverage can otherwise be maintained. In all cases, the welfare of the patient is paramount.

(2) Reasonable actions must be taken to ensure that a patient who has been harmed receives necessary treatment or care. If a patient has been injured, such actions shall include a medical examination commensurate with the acuity of the injury. The name of the examiner, the written findings of the examiner, and a copy of any other medical record associated with such examination shall be retained by the mental health provider.

(3) In addition, mental health providers shall review their activities in response to reportable incidents to ensure that corrective actions will be taken as necessary to address systems and personnel issues that may pose a continued risk to individuals in care.

(b) Documentation. Incident management programs shall include procedures for documenting the occurrence of incidents and the results of all related examinations, investigations and reviews. Incident-related documents are confidential quality assurance documents which shall be maintained separately from the patient's clinical record. However, a description of any clinical impact which an incident may have on a patient shall be recorded in the clinical record.

(c) Investigation Process. Investigations conducted by the Office and mental health providers shall be governed by the provisions of this subdivision.

(1) All incidents shall be thoroughly investigated in a timely manner by staff competent to conduct such investigations.

(2) Investigating entity:

(i) The Justice Center has the authority to investigate allegations of abuse or neglect and significant Incidents. It may delegate authority for doing so to the Office.

(ii) The Office may delegate responsibility for investigating an incident to the mental health provider.

(3) Restrictions.

(i) No one may conduct the investigation of any Reportable Incident in which he or she was directly involved, or in which his or her testimony has been incorporated, or in which a spouse, domestic partner, or immediate family member was directly involved.

(ii) No party in the line of supervision of staff who were directly involved in a Reportable Incident may conduct the investigation, provided, however, the director of the mental health provider may conduct the investigation if he or she is not an immediate supervisor of any staff who were directly involved in such incident.

(4) Commencing the investigation. As soon as a provider of services is made aware that an allegation of abuse or neglect has been reported to the Justice Center, or a patient death has occurred, such provider is responsible for immediately conducting any assessment or review that may be necessary, provided, however, that witness statements shall not be taken by anyone other than the investigating entity designated in accordance with paragraph (2) of this subdivision. If the Justice Center or the Office subsequently assumes responsibility for the investigation, the provider must identify the initial investigatory steps that have been taken and supply any and all preliminary information it has obtained.

(5) Process. The investigation process shall be conducted in accordance with guidelines of the Office and shall include the following components, which must be implemented commensurate with the type and severity of the incident:

(i) Preservation of Evidence

(a) Where there is physical evidence of an incident, it should be preserved whenever possible, maintaining a chain of possession. For example, if a patient is injured, bloodied clothing or linens should be saved, labeled as to date, time, and location where found, and the identity of all persons who handled the item recorded, until such time as any investigation and any disciplinary action is completed. Directors of mental health providers shall be responsible for ensuring secure storage space for such evidence is available.

(b) If the incident is an allegation of physical abuse, photographs should be taken to document evidence of injury, or lack thereof.

(c) Any written documents potentially associated with the incident shall be collected and safeguarded as soon as the incident is reported or discovered, to ensure that they are not altered or lost. Such documents may include, but are not limited to, patients' charts, staff assignment logs, incident reports, and shift-to-shift communication books.

(ii) Interviewing Witnesses

(a) Potential witnesses to an incident, which may include patients, shall be interviewed by persons qualified to conduct such interviews. Interviews should be conducted separately and as privately as possible.

(b) Each potential witness should be asked appropriate questions in an effort to gather pertinent information about the incident. Where possible, investigators should take into consideration any apparent issues which may impact an individual's manner of communication, such as culture, English proficiency, nature of disability, acuity of illness, etc. Before interviewing patients who are children, consent from the child's parent or guardian should be obtained if in the best interest of the child. Children should also be given the option of having clinical support in the room with them as long as it is not someone who may also be interviewed in the course of the investigation or asked to provide a witness statement.

(iii) Analysis of Evidence. To the extent possible, all available information pertinent to the incident shall be reviewed. Examples of such information may include, but are not limited to, photographs or videos, the alleged site/location of the incident, records and documents of the mental health provider, witness statements, records or documents from external assessments or surveys, and/or records of similar previous incidents.

(d) Final Reports.

(1) Abuse and Neglect. The results of an incident investigation shall be summarized in a written final investigative report. The purpose of such report is to describe the methods and procedures used in conducting the investigation, summarize the interviews and other evidence collected, outline the factual theories considered, explain the preliminary findings and conclusions reached (with reference to the supporting information obtained in the investigation), identify concerns, and provide recommendations with respect to substantiating or unsubstantiating the allegations.

(2) Incidents reported to the Justice Center and the Office. For all Significant Incidents that were accepted by the Vulnerable Persons' Central Register, providers of mental health services shall submit investigative findings to the Office, which shall submit them to the Justice Center.

(iii) Significant Incidents. Investigative findings must be submitted to the Office within 45 calendar days of acceptance by the Vulnerable Persons' Central Register of a report of a Significant Incident.

(5) If the Justice Center or the Office conducts an investigation of a licensed provider of mental health services, such provider is not required to submit a final investigative report or investigative findings to the Justice Center.

(i) If the Office conducts the investigation, the Office shall submit the final report or investigative findings to the Justice Center, as required, provided, however, that the provider of mental health services shall supply information as requested by the Justice Center or the Office as may be necessary for the completion of the final investigative report or investigative findings.

(ii) If a provider of mental health services has conducted an investigation of a Significant Incident delegated to it by the Office, the Office shall submit investigative findings to the Justice Center, consistent with guidance issued by the Office.

(e) Confidentiality. All documents, reports, and information obtained in the course of the investigation are confidential and shall not be used or disclosed except as authorized by federal or state laws and regulations. Such documents, records, and information shall be maintained so as to protect the privacy of patients, anyone involved in a reportable incident, or others whose names appear in the report or whose identity in the report is otherwise easy to ascertain.
